THE MISSION OF AMUSEMENT

from the 1899

Ringling Bros. Route Book

"To be good, mankind must be happy. To wreath the face of humanity in smiles for a time, to loosen the chains that hold man captive to his duties and return him to them better fitted for his obligations, is the mission of amusement and the one great desire of moralists is, and ought to be, that it be pure and wholesome.

Amusement unfetters the mind from its environs and changes the dreary monotony of the factory's spindles to the joyous song of the meadow lark. It gives flight to the caged soul to treat in airy places. It softens the wrinkles of sorrow, makes smiles of frowns.

This is the mission of amusement — and the circus, with its innocent sights of joy for the children and its power to make all men and women children again for at least one day, comes the nearest of any form of amusement to fulfilling this mission."
